Patent disputes are increasingly conducted in several jurisdictions. As a consequence, there is a growing need to bring German legal practice and German court decisions to the attention of an international audience. Moreover, it is noticeable that foreign parties are taking legal action in German courts more frequently. These parties also require access to German court decisions and the evolving case-law in the English language.

The Work Group on Patent Judicature in Germany, a registered association, undertakes to collect, edit and analyze the developing practice of patent law in Germany from various perspectives on a non-profit basis and as a service to the community.

To this end, the most important patent decisions of the German Federal Court of Justice (Bundesgerichtshof – BGH) and other court decisions are to be published in an English data base (www.patentdecisions.de), which will be globally accessible for legal practitioners and scholars. The aim is also to facilitate the comparative study and discussion of German legal thinking in patent law in comparison to other legal systems. In this way, the legal reasoning developed in German courts shall be made available for international discussion.

The Work Group on Patent Judicature in Germany e. V. provides English translations of decisions of the Federal Court of Justice (Bundesgerichtshof – BGH) in patent disputes and important decisions of lower courts in an online data base, by making available translations originally commissioned for the parties and obtained with their consent.

Translation that cannot be obtained from the parties have to be produced and paid for by the association. In order to meet these costs and to make possible the continued availability of the data base, the association relies on contributions by its members. The use of the data base is free of charge for anyone.
